

A close-up photograph of three bell-shaped flowers, likely from a Campanula species, hanging from a stem. The flowers are a mix of light purple and pale yellow, with delicate veining. They are covered in small, clear water droplets, suggesting a recent rain or dew. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green. The entire scene is reflected in a pool of water at the bottom of the frame, creating a symmetrical effect. The text "Balance Between Buttons & Bliss" is written in a golden, cursive font across the middle of the image.

The method by which Jesus evolved from sense consciousness to God consciousness was, first, the recognition of the spiritual selfhood and a constant affirmation of its supremacy and power. “All authority has been given to me in heaven and on earth.” By the power of his word, he penetrated deeper into omnipresence and tapped the deepest resources of His mind, where He released the light, life, and substance of Spirit, which enabled Him to get the realization that wholly united his consciousness with the Father Mind.
