

DAILYWORD

Begin

I'm never going to make it in the world with a petty mind, an uptight, counting, calibrating, fearful mind. The Universe laughs with abundance. It is not so concerned with making every single opportunity work. It always has more in the pipeline. Losing an "opportunity" is no big deal. There are infinite opportunities.

Walk with me and work with me – watch how I do it. Learn the unforced rhythms of grace. I won't lay anything heavy or ill-fitting on you.

I Begin As Spirit

1. I ask for what I want and trust in the highest good.
2. Despite my past mistakes, I learn and move forward.
3. I say Yes to the urge to stretch, improve and contribute.
4. My love lets in what fear shuts out. I always have a choice.
5. I'm looking forward to seeing the good that will come out of this situation.
6. I have all that I need to take this next step.
7. Whatever happens to me is for me.
8. I accept challenges even if I am afraid.
9. I allow others to say No to me and take it as information.
10. I have more and more to give away and I give it.
11. I enthusiastically accept my good and go forward to achieve my purpose.

I am ready for every good thing as I begin again.
