

LOVE on EARTH

...as it is in Heaven

Love is patient, love is kind.
It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It does not dishonor others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered,
it keeps no record of wrongs.

1 Cor. 13.4-5

God loves us all for who we are, not what we look like, who we pray to, who we love, who we vote for. God loves ALL of us universally and unconditionally. Tolerating each other's differences is a key aspect of demonstrating unconditional love for others and God.

There is no intolerance whatsoever. It is and remains about love and service. The choice of whether to live by such a belief is very much our own choice.

10 Life-Changing Lessons from Heaven

I had spent a lifetime of fear of judgment and now, standing with God, I had been known completely and found faultless. I knew God regarded me as perfect. God could only love me because God is only love, nothing other than love. The only reality is God; there cannot be another and God is love.

During the life review, the Being was not judging me but loved me unconditionally, which gave me the strength to see my life review the way it was, without any blinders, and let me decide for myself what was positive, negative, and what I needed to do about that.

10 Life-Changing Lessons from Heaven

I thought it was normal to try to change others but in this physical life we are unable to see the big interconnected picture of the universe, so how can we know what is good for another individual? I was still able to choose whether a person's actions were something I wanted to be around, but that involved changing me, not the other person. I saw I could recognize and respect the beliefs and practices of others.

All those categories that we've been taught for centuries, that's not what you see on the Other Side. What you see on the Other Side is spirit. What you feel is the essence of love.

The love in the other realm is very different in that it is pure in essence. It has no agenda and no expectations, and it doesn't act out of emotion or react differently depending on one's actions or feelings. It just is.

Dying To Be Me

Love is the total and complete acceptance of what is. Love allows. Love is about allowing yourself to be who and what you are and allowing that same right to all others.

Omni Reveals the Four Principles of Creation

Without the Law of Love, free will could not exist. In order for the Universe to grow through experience, 'allowing' or love must be in place, for there cannot be any limitation to the experience.

Love, refusing to see anything but good,
causes that quality finally to appear uppermost in itself and all things.
