CREATING IN THE 3rd Dimension

You are a vibrational being. The frequency that you radiate with your emotions and thoughts is matched by the universe. We receive energy (thoughts and emotions) from the universe at the level which we are conditioned to receive from...in other words, at the level we are perceptually tuned to receive.

If we habitually live in a negative mental world where you perceive suffering, stress, scarcity and the like, you are only available for those same energies from the universe. But if we start to cultivate love, kindness, and inspiration, then we tap into much higher levels of universal consciousness and thus 'download' information directly from the field in ways we never thought possible.
